UCSB Library, Special Research Collections

Audio Digitization Technician

December 2022 - September 2023; February 2024 – March 2025

➔ SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Controlling traffic of audio materials to be transferred to digital by student assistants in the Henri Temianka Audio Preservation Lab
- Creating and refining documentation for digitization procedures of audio materials, especially grooved media (wax cylinders, shellac and vinyl records)
- Supervising imaging station where student assistants photograph disc labels

➔ AUDIOVISUAL ARCHIVAL EXPERIENCE

- Transferring grooved media to digital audio, especially pre-war commercial sound recordings of the 78rpm era; extensive familiarity with best practices for physical preservation of grooved media
- Transferring magnetic media (both audio and video) to digital format, especially audiocassette, open reel tape, and VHS
- Utilizing Python scripts and ffmpeg to process and organize audio files, metadata, and images before pushing to project repository: adp.library.ucsb.edu
- Familiarity with UCSB Library SRC's metadata conventions for digitized content across several collections

➔ PROJECT CONTRIBUTIONS

- Managing "disc traffic" for the American Discography Project / Discography of American Historical Recordings under funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities ($349,721: 3 years)
- Processing materials for patron requests or specific ADP / DAHR publications
- Creating an inventory for UCSB's newly acquired Richard Reich and Leon & Googie René Collections: nearly ten-thousand early rhythm-and-blues records and home recordings
- Digitizing, transcribing, and creating an inventory for the John Steinbeck SoundScriber Disc papers
